Dear Kerry,

I am delighted to learn about the opportunity for the Middlewich Heritage Trust to acquire the property adjacent to the pump. This will make it much easier for the general public to see this very special part of our local history.

The contribution you and Steve Broadfoot made to the Symposium on the White Salt Industry last October was very valuable, reinforcing the message that the salt industry of Mid-Cheshire is important both locally and nationally. The salt industry also displays a technology that has been evolving for well over two thousand years in ways that can be understood without having special background knowledge. This makes it particularly good for igniting the spark of curiosity in both young and not so young.

I regard this as such an important opportunity that I am enclosing a personal donation of £50.

Yours sincerely,

Philip Ingram
